PASSAGE

A majority of Indians prefer to use the internet for accessing banking and other services than shopping online, shows a new survey.

Almost 57% of Indian respondents using the internet prefer to bank or use financial services due to hassle-free access and time saving feature of online banking, the survey.

Checking information on products and services online comes a close second to shopping online. The fourth on the list-around 42% of respondents is to look for jobs, the survey said. Online banking has made things much easier and saves a lot of time.

It has eliminated the problems associated with traditional way of banking where customers stand in a queue and fill up several forms. Most of the banks in India have introduced user friendly banking facility with advanced security features to protect customers' information.

The easy registration process for net banking has improved customers' access to products, increased customer loyalty, facilitated money transfer to any bank and has helped banks attract new customers. The Indian results closely track the global trends. In a survey conducted among 19216 people from 24 countries, the survey showed that banking and tracking of finances and searching for jobs are the main tasks of internet users around the world.

Overall, 60% of people surveyed used the web to check their bank accounts and assets in the past 90 days, making it the most popular use of the internet globally. Shopping is too far behind at 48%, the survey showed and 41% went online in search of a job. In Sweden, preferences, almost 90% of respondents in Sweden use e-banking.

Online banking has also caught on in a big way in nations like France, Germany, Poland, South Africa and Belgium, the survey showed. The Germans and British are leading in using online shopping with 74% of respondents in both countries having bought something online in the past three months. They are followed by 68% of respondents in Sweden, Japan and South Korea.
