Sl. No.29
QBID:8752029

Given below are two statements :

Statement I : E.W. Burgers and H.J. Locke in their book, "The Family" argues that "the family is a group of persons, united by the ties of marriage, blood, or adoption, constituting a single household, interacting and intercommunicating with each other in their respective social role of husband and wife, mother and father, brother and sister creating a common culture"

Statement II : Whatever shortcoming this definition itself may have, it is a good deal preferable to that of Kingsley Davis who defined the family as a group of persons whose relations to one another are based upon consanguinity and who are therefore kin to one another. This could be an inadequate definition even of the family in the contemporary West... for even here adoption is perfectly well known and recognized on the basis of family membership

In the light of the above statements, choose the most appropriate answer from the options given below :
